
CROOK & FOLLY

NEWSLETTER

ISSUE NO. 2

JANUARY 23RD

C

DePaul's art and literary magazine Crook & Folly is now accepting submissions for our 46th edition!

SUBMISSIONS ARE OPEN!!!

THIS WEEK'S WRITER

Thomas Longshore Farnham is a 21 year old writer from Connecticut. He writes personal poems about nature and childhood, informed by his youth in parts of rural Connecticut and Maine. He currently lives in Chicago, where he is a senior studying creative writing at DePaul University.

* ISSUE NO. 2 * @CROOKANDFOLLY * WWW.CROOKANDFOLLY.COM *

NEWS OF THE WEEK

DON'T MISS OUR INCENTIVE PERIOD!

Ends February 1st. Submit your work and receive feedback from our editors and a chance to resubmit for an even better chance at being published!

GENERAL SUBMISSIONS ARE OPEN UNTIL FEBRUARY 22ND!

UPCOMING EVENT!!!

JANUARY 29TH ● 6-8PM ● 3800 N CLARK ST.

This Thursday, Uncommon Ground will be hosting DePaul's Graduate Reading series! Stop by this free event to hear writers read a variety of poetry, fiction, creative non-fiction, and more.

 ISSUE NO. 2 * @CROOKANDFOLLY * WWW.CROOKANDFOLLY.COM ***

MEDIA OF THE WEEK

BOOKS

Pilgrim at Tinker Creek by Annie Dillard

*Mothman Apologia
by Robert Wood Lynn*

MUSIC

*Live on Red Barn Radio
I & II*

by Tyler Childers

have YOUR media of the week featured in the next edition by clicking here or see the link in our bio!

POEM BY THOMAS LONGSHORE FARNHAM

Poem for Rocky

She taught me young how to live.

*Often climbed out in the morning
to read the forest earth,
to stick her small wet nose
into the air,
returned home with her form of thanks—
a small brown mouse rested on my father's pillow.*

*One night she sat under the porch in a rain storm,
watched the thick liquid sky.
Lightning struck the wood stairs above her,
she jumped louder than thunder,
came back in without a fuss
only to have her long black fur dry.*

*She died when I was too young to cry,
was planted happily at the edge of the yard,
a warm rock as her gravestone.*

SUBMIT YOUR WORK NOW!

click to see

LITERARY SUBMISSIONS

OR SEE THE LINK IN

ART SUBMISSIONS

OUR BIO!

INSTAGRAM:

@crookandfolly

WEBSITE:

www.crookandfolly.com

QUESTIONS?

crookandfolly@gmail.com